Congregational Prayer*(Time for personal prayer)*

Who is there like You, God of mercy, grace, and forgiveness? Love has its source in You, Heavenly Father, and it flows from You like an ocean into a world as unyielding as any shoreline cliff. But like the ocean erodes and wears away the stone, Your love finds cracks and inlets in hardened hearts, flows inside, and works a miracle.

Oh Lord, make Your love flow into our hearts and open them to You.

Who knows and understands our actions, our thoughts and words, as You do? You know our sorrows and joys and share them; You feel the pain we endure and comfort us. You hear us confess our sins, and you forgive. You take a broken heart and make it whole.

You find a life that is lost, and you welcome it home.

Your love sees failings and forgives; Your love feels pain and wipes away our tears. Forgive us when we fail to live lives that reflect Your love; forgive us the many times we take for granted all that You have done for us. There are times when we are all too aware of our limitations, when we are conscious of sin and the distance it creates between us. It is only You who can understand the language of our hearts, even when our voices cannot find the words to pray.

O God, translate our hearts' sorrows into a whispered prayer of repentance.

Thank You, Loving Father, that You forgive, and having forgiven, surround us in an embrace of love, drawing us closer and closer to Your heart. Thank You, Merciful God, for listening to our hearts as well as our voices, even as we pray as Your dear Son taught us to pray.
